Cultural Resources UPDATE

Volume 5, Number 2

February 2008

WELCOME

The Legacy Resource Management Program

As promised, the results for Legacy's Round 2 of funding are in, and the list of funded Cultural Resources projects from this round are:

Training Course - Interpreting ATFP standards for Cultural Resource Managers

Spatial Data Modeling - Cultural Resources

A Predictive Model of Seventeenth Century Sites in the Chesapeake Bay

Using Indicator Species for Identification of Prehistoric Archeological Sensitivity and Potential Site Integrity

Best Practices Tool for Tribal Interests and Natural/Traditional Resources

To all proposal authors, thank you for your submittals and your patience through this long process. If your proposal was not funded this year, do consider resubmitting next season. To all readers, be on the lookout for new Areas of Emphasis with the FY09 Request for Proposals... coming this spring!

DoD Historic Buildings Conference Kansas City, Missouri-- June 2008

The Legacy funded conference is designed to provide cultural resources managers, architectural historians, historic architects, and their contractors—all of us who have oversight on DoD historic buildings—an overview of key themes in identifying, evaluating, and managing the vast number of historic buildings on our installations. Topics covered in the conference will be design guidelines, antiterrorism and force protection (ATFP), green buildings, sustainability, adaptive reuse strategies, and a variety of other essential topics. There will be a field trip for all participants to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas exemplifying ideas and issues discussed throughout the conference. Posters will be presented during the box lunch periods on Tuesday and Wednesday. The Keynote Speaker will be Mr. Alex Beehler, Assistant Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Environment, Safety and Occupational Health.

The no fee conference will run from Tuesday 17 June to Thursday 19 June. On Monday 16 June will be two courses requiring fees—an Advanced Section 106 course taught by the Advisory Council (limit of 25 people) and an ATFP short course taught by the Center of Expertise in Omaha (limit of 50-75 people). Conference website with agenda and other information will be operational shortly, please look for further details in next month's Legacy newsletter.

Continental breakfasts, breaks, and box lunches will be provided each day. The conference will be held at the Kansas City Airport Hilton; for government rate please contact the hotel directly, and make reservations under "DoD Historic Buildings Conference."

NATIVE AMERICAN COINS

The US Treasury recently announced the release of $1 coins featuring important achievements and people made by Native American tribes and individuals. One coin from the Native American Coin Program will be minted each year beginning in 2009 and released with the four Presidential $1 coins. The program will continue until 2016.

The front of the $1 Native American coins will feature the Sacagawea image released in 2000, with the person or Tribe image on the reverse. For more information on the Native American $1 coin series, or any other recent US coin series, visit: http://www.usmint.gov/mint_programs/nativeAmerican/index.cfm.

NEW WORKING GROUP FROM NMFVA

The National Military Fish and Wildlife Association (NMFVA) Board of Directors has conditionally-approved formation of a Conservation Law Enforcement Working Group (CLEWG) pending development of a charter and bylaws. The first CLEWG meeting will be held during the next NMFVA conference in Phoenix, 24-28 March 2008. Working Group meetings begin Monday afternoon (March 24). The meeting will establish rules of engagement/bylaws; present the draft Charter (Attachment); and discuss ongoing law enforcement issues/initiatives across DoD. For more information on the NMFVA conference go to the NMFVA web site http://www.nmfva.org/2008_Meeting/index.cfm.

FREE ONLINE TRAINING AVAILABLE FROM ACHP

The ACHP is very proud to announce the availability of an online training course for federal employees called, "Working Effectively with Tribal Governments." For a limited time, it will be available to the public free of charge.

While the one-hour training is geared towards federal employees, we encourage all our preservation partners to take the training to better understand the relationship federal agencies have to Indian tribes and the legal requirements that might impact the Section 106 review process. We also encourage you to pass along the URL to those you think might benefit from such training. It will be available to the public until April 30, 2008, at www.GoLearn.gov. Once at the GoLearn web site, click on the small thumbnail to go to the tribal training. The training program was developed by a sub-group of the Indian Affairs Executive Working Group, established by the White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs in 2006. Monique Fordham of the ACHP was one of the principle architects of this training and worked with federal partners from the Environmental Protection Agency and the Department of Justice.

For more information about this training, go to www.achp.gov. You can also access the training through the ACHP website.

CORRECTION:

Last month (Volume 5, Number 1 January 2008), the UPDATE ran an article on page 3 entitled "Website Worthy of Mention." This article credits USACE with production of the NHPA website, when the authors are from USAEC. My apologies for the confusion and thanks to those readers who caught the error. The mistake was amended on the edition that will shortly appear on DENIX. To ensure that no further confusion exists, below is the website address.

The USAEC has been busy putting together this retro-themed website that focuses on the NHPA compliance and future challenges facing cultural resources!

<http://aec.army.mil/usaec/publicaffairs/update/win08/win0811.html>

TO BE FAIR...

Since the UPDATE mentioned USACE last month but credited them with a website they did not create, here is the link to a website they did (honest). USACE's Tribal Affairs website:

<http://www.usace.army.mil/cw/tribal/index.html>.

DENIX

DENIX was frozen for a period of time in February. The issues surrounding its freeze have been amended, and DENIX is accepting changes and postings to the website.

If you have not registered for the new DENIX with you CAC, do so by visiting: <https://www.denix.osd.mil/portal/page/portal/denix>

And be sure to sign up to receive email announcements of new Cultural Resources postings!

Call for Abstracts

Environmental Security Technology Certification Program (ESTCP)

ESTCP is seeking innovative technology demonstrations as candidates for funding beginning in Fiscal Year 2009. This solicitation requests pre-proposals via Calls for Proposals to DoD organizations and Federal (Non-DoD) organizations, and via a Broad Agency Announcement (BAA) for Private Sector organizations. Pre-proposals are due by 13 March 2008. Detailed instructions for DoD, Non-DoD Federal, and BAA proposers are available on the ESTCP website: <http://www.estcp.org/opportunities>.

Call for Nominations

National Preservation Awards

The National Trust for Historic Preservation calls for nominations for the 2008 National Preservation Awards. These awards will celebrate the best of preservation by recognizing those whose contributions demonstrate outstanding excellence in historic preservation. More information is available online at http://www.nationaltrust.org/preservation_awards/. Please notify Ms. Maureen Sullivan before submitting any nomination packets, Maureen.sullivan@osd.mil. The deadline for these packages is 1 March 2008.

SAVING PLACES 2008

Colorado Preservation, Inc.'s 11th annual Saving Places conference occurred in Denver, Colorado, February 6-8, 2008. This year's conference, "Promoting Colorado's Heritage," attracted over 1,200 attendees.

Among those in attendance were representatives from OSD, SPACECOM, Army HQ, and cultural resources managers from several regional installations including: Buckley AFB, Peterson AFB, Fort Carson, and the WY Army National Guard.

The DoD presence at Saving Places 2008 reinforced the notion of DoD's role in resources management.

WANT ADS:

Q&A ON DOD HISTORIC REAL PROPERTY

Last month, Brian Lione offered up his inbox to anyone with questions about the "new" requirements for reporting historic real property. At press time, exactly none of you have taken him up on the offer. As the Q&A exchange was to form the basis for this month's article, we have little to offer.

In the interest of reporting something - ANYTHING, really - on DoD's historic real property, Brian offers this puzzler - can you identify the historic DoD real property asset in this photo? First person to email Brian with the correct answer gets their very own copy of the FY2007 DoD Base Structure Report.

Email your guesses to Brian at Brian.Lione@osd.mil. Certain members of the DoD CRM community are not eligible to send in a guess (you know who you are!).

CR CENTERFOLD

January Question: What other active DoD installations were the scene of combat or significant strategic military positions during times of domestic conflict?

Answer: Fort Bragg, Monroe's Crossroads, and White Sands Missile Range. WSMR occupies land that includes several famous battles from the Indian Wars.

February Challenge: Which US state or commonwealth has the most military installations?

Answer next month!

THE LAST ETHNIC MARKER TO FADE FROM A CULTURE IS THE WAY WE PREPARE FOOD. TO CELEBRATE DIVERSITY AND OUR HERITAGE A RECIPE WILL BE PUBLISHED EACH MONTH.

NEXT MONTH PLEASE SEND YOUR FAVORITE CANADIAN FOOD RECIPE TO HILLORI.SCHENKER.CTR@OSD.MIL

NOTE: This one takes some time, but comes highly recommended. On a cold winter day after taking care of Colorado cattle or herding sheep, this recipe is sure to hit the spot!

PLAINS RECIPE:
Cowboy Beef and Black Bean Chili

RECIPE

2 lbs.	ground beef	1/2 c.	chili powder	1 can	diced tomatoes (14 oz)
1 tbsp.	oil	1 tbsp.	ground cumin	1 can	beef broth (14 oz)
1 1/2 c.	chopped onions	1 tsp.	dried oregano	12 oz	dark beer
2 tbsp.	minced garlic	1 tsp	dried thyme	1/3 c.	tomato paste
2	chopped bell peppers	1/8 tsp	ground red pepper	2 cans	black beans (15 oz)
1 large	jalapeño pepper	1 can	crushed tomatoes (28 oz)	1 tbsp	honey

DIRECTIONS

Brown ground beef in stockpot over medium heat. Pour off drippings. Set beef aside in bowl. Heat oil in same pot until hot. Sauté onions and garlic until tender, add bell and jalapeno pepper until tender. Return beef to stockpot. Add seasonings, stir and cook for 2 minutes. Stir in tomatoes, broth, beer, tomato paste, and honey. Bring mixture to a boil. Cover, reduce heat to a simmer for 45 minutes. Uncover pot and continue simmering for 30 minutes, or until thickened to desired consistency. Stir in beans and cook until heated through. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Garnish with cilantro, cheddar cheese, sour cream as desired.

*Vegetarian beef substitutes and vegetable broth can also be used for this recipe. Reduce cooking time, accordingly.

LEGACY RESOURCE MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

The Legacy program was established by Congress in 1990 to provide financial assistance to DoD to preserve our natural and cultural heritage. The program assists the DoD in protecting and enhancing resources while supporting military readiness. A Legacy project may involve regional ecosystem management initiatives, habitat preservation efforts, historic preservation projects, archaeological investigations, invasive species control, Native American consultations, and/or monitoring and predicting migratory patterns of birds and animals.

See www.dodlegacy.org for more information.
